Bradford Episcopal Area

Revd Jenny Savage

Priest-in-Charge, Steeton

jenny.savage@bradford.anglican.org

01535 657537

The Vicarage, 2 Halsteads Way

Steeton, Keighley, BD20 6SN

I am Revd Jenny Savage, married to Ed and we have 4 children and 6 grandchildren. I was ordained in 1999 and have been the Rector at Haworth, Priest in charge in the rural parishes Burton and Thornton-in-Lonsdale where I was also responsible for developing hospitality in the Deanery. I am currently the Vicar of Steeton with Eastburn. I am also the Spirituality Adviser for the Bradford Episcopal area and have held that position for 9 years. I am a Spiritual Director and have been a person who people have sort out to talk to for many years.

Revd Helen Hodgson

Associate Priest, Tong & Laisterdyke

helen.hodgson@leeds.anglican.org

01274 560761

The Vicarage, 74 Holmewood Road

Tong, Bradford, BD4 9EJ

I was ordained in 2004. I served my curacy and first incumbency in the historic Wakefield diocese where I was also an associate chaplain at the University. I am married to Gary, who is also ordained, and we have four grownup children.

We moved to Cottingley, Bradford in 2009 and in our time there I had a variety of roles - serving as associate priest at both St Barnabas Church, Thwaites Brow and at St Michael's Church, Cottingley. I was also lead minister at The Eldwick Church LEP. We have recently moved to the parish of Tong, Holmewood and Laisterdyke where I am serving as associate priest.

Guisseley, LEEDS, LS20 8AX

I hope others see me as an encourager and as an enabler. My day job was teaching English to students studying for a BA or an MA at Leeds Trinity University. As Head of Department, I was responsible for the nurture of staff in Humanities, and this included the shared task of reflecting on practice and supporting initiatives to develop scholarship and teaching through the review process. Over the last fifteen years I have also been privileged to come alongside candidates for ordination training as a Bishop's Adviser for Education. Currently, as Chair of Governors at a Church of England Primary School, I have a responsibility to support the Head Teacher's professional development, vital to the fulfilment of the school's mission. Interests also include theatre visits, hill-walking and Anglo-German friendship.

Revd Louise Taylor-Kenyon
Vicar, Embsay with Eastby; CME Bradford

toft@phoncoop.coop

01756 798057

The Vicarage

21 Shires Lane

Embsay, Skipton, BD23 6SB

I was ordained in 2007 in the former Diocese of Bradford. After my curacy in Skipton, where I was licensed to five churches, two incumbents and four parishes, I moved to my current post in Embsay and Eastby in 2010. I have a particular interest in multi-benefice ministry, and in facilitating conversational approaches to discerning vision. Having a dual-role post has enabled me to put theory into practice in the parish, and to develop collaborative and supportive parish structures. I am also an advocate of creative and constructive approaches to conflict based on the Bridge Builder's model.

Revd Patrick Bateman

Vicar, All Saints Ilkley

patrick.bateman@bradford.anglican.org

01943 431126

58 Curly Hill

Ilkley, LS29 0BA

@PatrickBatem777

Vicar of All Saints Ilkley since December 2012. I have a broad and lifelong experience of the Church of England. Before ordination worked in the City of London as an Oil Futures Trader for approximately 18 years. Trained for the ministry at St John's Nottingham, then served my curacy and first incumbency in Southwark Diocese. Am married and have 4 children. Try to keep physically active with dog walking, swimming and occasional cycling and tennis. Within the many limitations that we all have, am willing to work towards our churches and Christian ministries having an ever greater impact. Have some capacity to journey with and support others who feel the same.

Now retired, most of my working life was spent with hi-tech American multi-nationals, initially in technical customer support and then in a variety of management roles in UK, Europe and USA, although having retired and returned to Yorkshire 12 years ago, I became CEO of a local charity (The Next Step Trust) and am now their Chair, having retired again. I have run my own company, providing consultancy in management behaviours (including upwards appraisals) and process management. I am Finance Officer for my local church and am the independent examiner for another parish.

Revd Cathy Reardon

Vicar, Erringden

reardoncathy@gmail.com

01422 883944

The Vicarage, Brier Hey Lane

Mytholmroyd, HX7 5PJ

I am relatively new to ordained ministry and I am in my first living. However, having spent the first 50 years of my life sitting in congregations I think I have a real understanding of the stresses and strains, joys and challenges of everyday church life. I have two churches, one is in the middle of re-ordering and the other was flooded on Boxing Day and so life is interesting at the moment - to say the least. I am married to Alan and have no children, we moved to Huddersfield about 20 years ago when my husband's firm moved us. I was born and brought up in Liverpool where most of my wider family still live including our elderly parents.

Arani was born in Wakefield of Indian parentage. He studied Modern Languages at Royal Holloway, London and during this time he began his Christian journey. Before ordination Arani developed wider skills as a secondary school languages teachers and Faculty Head which involved support and review of staff. He trained for ministry at Ridley Hall, Cambridge, served as a curate in Islington and vicar in Southall, both in urban multi-cultural settings. He is currently Vicar of Christ Church Upper Armley, Leeds and Acting Area Dean of Armley. In his ministry Arani is passionate about mentoring others to find their true vocation – he has trained a curate and sponsored 5 people into ordained ministry. Arani is married to Alison and together they enjoy travel, making music and learning Italian.

Fr Michael Wood

Priest in charge, St Bartholomew's Armley Leeds

frmwstbart@gmail.com

0113 2797766

Ordained in 1984, serving my title in Blackpool, then as a team vicar on some of the larger housing estates in Preston and returning to Blackpool for an incumbency in South Shore. During that time I had experience of working as a substitute chaplain in Preston Prison and chaplain to South Shore Hospital. Coming over West Yorkshire in 2000 as Team Rector of Brighouse then Team Rector of Castleford. I am now priest in charge of St Bartholomew's Armley in Leeds.

I have been privileged to be Area Dean of both Blackpool and Brighouse and Elland. As a teacher before ordination I have always maintained a close relationship with the schools in the parishes where I serve. The church in the urban situation is one of my keen interests. Although from the catholic wing of the church I feel that all dimensions of our church are precious.

Outside of 'work' I enjoy reading, the theatre and the company of my friends.

Having spent his early life in the North East working in the computer industry, he was to begin training for the ministry at Lincoln Theological College 1989-1991. He served his Title as curate of Consett in Durham Diocese enjoying positions after in inner-city Gateshead, the East Coast of Durham serving ex-coal mining villages, eventually becoming Rector of Ebchester and Vicar of Medomsley.

Having become a facilitator on collaborative working in Durham, he moved to the Diocese of Lincoln in 2004 serving in a multi parish benefice during which time he became a Vocations Advisor, and Rural Dean of Lawres.

In 2007 he became assistant DDO for Lincoln Diocese before becoming DDO for Canterbury in 2009.

He has now become Rector of the Lower Swale with responsibility for 8 Rural Churches in the Diocese of West Yorkshire and the Dales. He is married to Carolyne, and in his leisure time enjoys travelling and scuba diving. He is also a keen runner – and has become a triathlete since his move to Yorkshire.

The Revd Paul Harford

Vicar of the United Benefice of Bishop Thornton, Burnt Yates, Markington, Ripley, and South Stainley

revpaulharford@gmail.com

01765 677123

www.ubstory.info

With a background in English Literature, and having worked in the publishing industry, I now work as a full time stipendiary minister as the Vicar of Bishop Thornton, Burnt Yates, Markington, Ripley, and South Stainley. The five church Benefice also includes four C of E Schools. So I've learned a bit about juggling expectations, and managing time.

I'm married with two children, aged 6 and 4 - so for the last six years my interest in outdoor pursuits (walking, camping, kayaking etc.) has had to be put a little bit on the back-burner (though I have now got back into Scouting as a Beaver Leader); and these days when not working, and left to my own devices, you're likely to find me invested in a board game of some kind, fiddling with a deck of cards, or trying to learn to play the piano.

Area Dean, Ewecross Deanery

ian.greenhalgh@bradford.anglican.org

01524 251313

The Vicarage, Austwick, Lancaster, LA2 8BE

In June 2017, I will have been ordained for 40 years. My early ministry was in Urban Parishes within the Liverpool Diocese. I then served as a Military Chaplain with the Royal Air Force for 20 years - serving in a whole range of locations-both UK based and overseas with many deployments. Within the military, an Annual Appraisal was a natural part of the system, which I found of great value for myself but also in helping colleagues in their ministerial growth and development. Since 2004, I have been a Vicar of 4 rural Churches and Area Dean of Ewecross since 2005 and also of Bowland Deanery since 2014. I bring a lot of varied experience to ministry and hopefully would be an asset as a Peer reviewer.

01977 511659

St Michael's Vicarage, St Michael's Close
Castleford, WF10 4ER

D.O.B. 2nd January 1957

Ordained Priest in 2009

Currently Team Vicar at Castleford Team Parish for about 5 years, I am Father of Melanie and Michael, (and now a Grandfather three times over!).

Born in Bolton, Lancashire, Dad was a Minister in the Elim Pentecostal Church so we moved every few years, meaning that I received most of my education in South and East Yorkshire, Graduating from Bradford University with a Degree in Textile Science, Technology and Design. My first employment was in South Wales, as Technical Manager in Textile Printing, an industry in which I would spend the next 30 years, ending up working in Dewsbury, West Yorkshire and living for 20 years or so in Halifax.

In Halifax I was Licensed as Reader at the then Parish Church, but eventually yielded to a call to serve full time as Priest, training at Westcott House. I served my Title at Almondbury Team Parish, West Yorkshire.

My secular employment gave me an insight into managing people which included experience of both being Reviewed and being a Reviewer, so I like to think that I have sympathy with both parties in the process.

My experience of Church over the years has been 'interesting' - starting life in the Pentecostal Church, where I made an early confession of Christ, going on to serve as a Lay-Preacher in the many small chapels in the South Wales Valleys, as a Youth Leader and Worship Leader, and then in Mainstream Anglicanism, including along the way both Evangelical and Anglo-Catholic expressions of faith. You could call this either a 'wide range of experience' or 'a bit confused'!

Pontefract, WF8 1NE

I am a parish priest of 25 years ministerial experience. I have been a peer reviewer since the scheme was introduced in the then Wakefield Diocese. I both enjoy and value MDR. I am a member of General Synod. I enjoy the relationship of buildings to mission, and have huge experience in reordering church buildings. I have a lively sense of humour. I have served in inner-city, sub-urban and civic churches. I am married with four children.

The Vicarage, 12 Fearnley Avenue

Ossett, WF5 9ET

Clive has a broad range of experience in workplace, missional and parish contexts, where leadership and team development characterises the role he has often taken. He has led and coached individuals and teams, as well as working with large public and private sector clients. He completed training as a Spiritual Director a couple of years ago, in Coventry Diocese, developing listening skills, especially. Clive completed the 30-day Ignatian Spiritual Exercises in 2013, as a result. He has worked with team-based methodologies, like Belbin team roles, and developed his own approach combining this with an understanding of Romans 12 motivational gifts. This can often yield helpful insights into team and relational dynamics. He has been a parish priest in Ossett for 18 months, after serving his curacy in Warwick. He trained at Mirfield, where he was seeking to deepen his understanding of monastic life and practices. Clive would count it a great privilege to conduct supportive peer reviews with fellow clergy.

Revd Paul Cartwright

Doncaster Road, Barnsley, S70 1UU

Paul was born in 1971 in Hemsworth, West Yorkshire, and on leaving school, he joined the West Yorkshire Police as a Constable. Within the force, he policed city and rural areas, working in Roads Policing, Family Liaison, and as a Diversity and Equalities Trainer where he gained a PGCE in Adult Education. Paul's wife is Debbie and they have two Children, Benjamin and Elizabeth.

Paul left the Police Service in 2006 to study Theology at the College of the Resurrection, Mirfield, and was ordained Deacon (2008) and Priest (2009), working in some of the poorest parishes in the Wakefield Episcopal area. He is also Chaplain to Further and Higher Education in Barnsley, and a Police Chaplain, as well as being one of the dioceses House of Clergy representatives on General Synod. He has a BA (Hons) in Social Police & Administration and is interested in all issues of Diversity. He is also a member of the Archbishops Council's Committee for Minority Ethnic Anglican Concerns.

Paul is also a musician and plays the fanfare trumpet & flugelhorn with the West Yorkshire Police Band.
