

The Bible and Ecology Course

Seven-session course facilitated by Rev Ruth Newton.

How is Christianity responding to the challenge of the Climate Crisis?
What are the connections between ecological concerns and faith?
Does the Bible help or hinder us when thinking about creation-care?
Is Salvation just for humans?

These are some of the questions addressed in The Bible and Ecology Course. Using online material from the University of Exeter, you will have the chance to hear from expert theologians in this area, followed by discussion in a local group.

Taking place on Zoom Tuesdays 7.30-9pm.
Commencing Tuesday 3rd November and concluding 15th December.

Rev Ruth Newton parish priest of St John's, Sharow, near Ripon and author of Greeningthelectionary.net. Ruth is studying for a Doctorate in eco-theology and mission. She is member of the Church of England General Synod and Area Environment Champion for Ripon Episcopal Area (South).

What previous participants said about the course:

"This course has helped to pull together lots of disparate thoughts I have had on the environment and enabled me to place them on a strong Biblical framework."

"I've found it really helpful to try to see eco issues from others' perspectives. Thank you Ruth for your excellent facilitation."

"The group discussion on the course has been really stimulating. I have learnt a lot from others."
